Sprinkler System Prevented Conflagration in Mill Street Plant—Probable Loss of $2000.

The sprinkler system installed in the wood turning shop of Hillhouse and Taylor on Mill street undoubtedly was the means of preventing a conflagration there during the night of Thursday although a loss of from $1500 to $2000 was sustained by the firm, mostly from water.

The first that was known of the fire was the discovery by N. Tharport, a teamster in the employ of Hillhouse and Taylor, that water was coming out under the doors of the building. This was about five o'clock Friday morning when he went to work. A telephone to the owners brought Harold Taylor to the spot, and on opening the doors six inches of water was found upon the floor, with a large amount coming down through the ceiling from the floor above.

The fire probably had its origin in the overhead bearing of a pulley in a pulley-box on the second floor, as a hole a foot or more square had been burned through the floor at that point, and the burning embers falling through had started a blaze on the ground floor. Three of the cocks of the sprinkler system had been opened, and the heat and the water effectively put a stop to the fire.

The damage to the machinery through which will be considerable, and the belt system was destroyed by the water. New belting has been ordered, but it will be several days before the shop will be in running order again.

The Political Situation.

Politics is beginning to look up in Windham once more. The republican party for delegates to the state and county conventions will be held next Monday night, and the democratic caucus has been called for Thursday, September 2.

It is a little early to make predictions, but the talk seems to be that the state of the democratic side is already made up. Whether or not it will meet opposition is a different question. Mayor Dunn is understood to favor the nomination of Governor Baldwin for the office of U. S. senator. It is not known yet whether the caucus will favor an instructed delegation.

Frank P. Fenton, town clerk, and for many years prominently identified with the democratic party in this section, has let it be known that he would not look with disfavor on a nomination for the state senate, and so far as known he is not likely to meet with any great opposition. He is well known and liked throughout all of Eastern Connecticut, and has filled the office of town clerk for fourteen years, since his return from the Spanish war. He was the first of his family to be a member of many fraternities and societies, and has a host of friends.

Will Sail Today.

Jerome B. Baldwin on Friday received a telegram from his daughter, Miss Jessie Baldwin, which was sent from London, and read: "Sailing Saturday on Minnetonka." This is the ship of the Atlantic Transport line, on which her return reservations had already been made. Miss Baldwin has been spending the summer abroad in company with her sister, Mrs. George Baldwin Lee of Ohio. Since the outbreak of the war they have been in Wales and England. The news of their departure for home today is very welcome to their parents and friends.

Gladioli and Dahlias.
